Awesome Ideas - For A Individual Concierge Hong Kong Has It All

A personal concierge is a position that is becoming a lot more widespread across the world, as business people require assistance in arranging their every day tasks along with other organisational work. This is really apparent in Hong Kong, where the wealthy and up and coming upper classes are employing personal concierges every day in order to make both their business and private lives easier to lead.

A personal concierge is basically similar to a PA, as they fulfil all of the same roles. Most of these roles may include scheduling meetings, diary management, note taking and answering any messages that their boss receives from the public or other senders. This means that the individual concierge must be experienced in a lot of areas, while also being able to think on their feet and sort situations as soon as they arise.

Often individual concierges are employed on a part time basis, as there isn't enough work inside the organisation to merit having them on standby throughout the whole day. This is especially apparent in smaller sized or start-up organisations, as the individual concierge may have a smaller work load and could very well be hired solely to assist the business enterprise until the owners have a solid grip on what they're doing.
